LS,

Oyster caught my attention through a contact in the remote work space, and the more I read, the more it clicked. A platform built specifically to distribute opportunity more evenly across the world - that's a problem I find genuinely worth working on.

The Lead PM role for Hire & Onboard maps well to what I've been doing. At South Pole I've taken multiple SaaS products from concept to launch in complex, cross-functional environments: coordinating across legal, compliance, engineering and go-to-market, navigating regulatory requirements without sacrificing usability or speed. I've also worked hands-on with AI integrations - not just as a concept but building and evaluating actual prototypes, including a PCF tool and an ML-driven forest impact calculator. I know the difference between AI that solves a real problem and AI that sounds good in a pitch.

The hiring and onboarding domain is new to me in a direct sense, but regulated, operationally complex B2B SaaS is familiar ground. I'm comfortable bringing structure to ambiguous spaces and driving things to completion.

The 12-month contract scope is fine by me; I'm interested in the work itself.

I look forward to expanding on this in an interview.

Regards,
Milo de Vries
