LS,

Not much to go on here — the job description didn't load properly, so I'm working a bit blind.

That said, if you can paste the actual role details, I'd be glad to write something that properly connects the dots between what they need and what I've done: founding and scaling a climate-tech SaaS, leading product across multiple enterprise tools at South Pole, hands-on AI/ML integrations, IAM, performance work, the whole range.

Worth doing it right rather than guessing.

Regards,
Milo de Vries

(Note: the job description came through as a blank page — likely a JavaScript-rendered app that didn't load. Paste the actual job details and I'll write the real letter.)
